AVCA Ethics Statement

We believe that the animal chiropractic profession should occupy that place in its own and public esteem to which it is entitled and that the doctor performing animal chiropractic should be a leader in the community—in character, in teaching, in learning, in dignified bearing, and in courteous relations with his or her professional colleagues.

We believe that these things can be accomplished by organized efforts and do hereby resolve ourselves into an organized association dedicated and pledged to the following objectives: To protect, promote, and promulgate the advancement of the philosophy, science, and art of animal chiropractic and the professional welfare of members of this association in every legitimate and ethical way.

The purpose of these efforts is to ensure that people in every locality shall have the knowledge of the health benefits of chiropractic care for animals, and the unhampered right and opportunity of obtaining the services of qualified doctors performing animal chiropractic with unquestionable standing and ability.

I, _____ (insert your name) have read and agree to abide by the complete Ethics Statement of the American Veterinary Chiropractic Association.
