

AVCA Basic Program Provider Requirements for Application for Approval

An animal chiropractic program may seek approval from the AVCA Education Committee. The purpose of the Committee is to develop approval criteria for animal chiropractic programs. Such approval to be used to determine eligibility of program graduates for AVCA certification and for advising regulatory/licensure bodies regarding acceptable animal chiropractic training programs.

Please thoroughly review the “AVCA Standards for Providers of Continuing Animal Chiropractic Education” before completing this application. The standards document can be emailed from the AVCA office or found on the AVCA website.

- Please complete and return the application and documentation with submission fee.
 - Should application be withdrawn BEFORE committee review, there is a non-refundable $150.00 administration charge
 - There is no refund AFTER committee review
- Applications may take 6-12 weeks to consider
- A complete application is expected upon submission to AVCA
- Should the documentation not be submitted as requested, AVCA Staff will hold the application for 30 days
- Notification of incomplete submission will be provided once
- The application shall then be closed without review, and a new basic program provider application must be submitted
- Incomplete applications will not be considered

Application qualifications:

1. The institution must comply with all applicable local, state or provincial licensing requirements.
2. The institution must demonstrate that it has provided continuous education in animal chiropractic for a minimum of one (1) year and
3. That a minimum of one graduating class must have completed the required educational program.*
4. The institution must demonstrate that it has been under the same ownership for at least one (1) year prior to submitting an application for approval.
5. The institution must verify that it has not had an approval or accreditation withdrawn by any other national or international animal chiropractic or other approval or accreditation body.
6. The institution agrees upon application that it will abide by AVCA requirements for approval and the applicable policies and procedures.
7. The institution agrees to support the goals and integrity of the AVCA.

A first graduating class may apply to sit the ACCC/AVCA certification examination prior to the program applying for approval, providing the program plans to apply for AVCA Basic Program Provider approval.*

AVCA approved institutions / programs are required:

1. To provide accurate and truthful information in all diplomas, advertising, catalogs and promotional materials describing educational programs/services offered by them. These documents must not contain false, misleading or exaggerated claims or statements.
2. Each basic program is required to provide a minimum of 210 certified hours.
3. To admit both licensed Doctors of Chiropractic and Doctors of Veterinary Medicine.
4. Hours Requested	Category-Record number of hours in each category that applies
	Category One – Clinical This category includes subject matter that is clinically applicable and related to the philosophy of chiropractic, or the science of clinical assessment and chiropractic diagnosis of the vertebral subluxation complex, treatment plans and the prevention of injury/disease as it relates directly to patients. However, this subject matter does not meet the criteria of Category Two, but rather is case based, anecdotal and/or undergoing scientific investigation. However, there must be an established “possibility” of success based on experience.
	Category Two – Scientific This category includes all conventional clinical sub-categories that are evidence based. In addition to the science of clinical assessment and chiropractic diagnosis of the vertebral subluxation complex, treatment plans and the prevention of injury/disease as it relates directly to patients, it also includes topics in veterinary and chiropractic science that are not specifically clinical in nature but consider the comprehensive range of the practice of animal chiropractic. This embraces but is not limited to topics related to public animal chiropractic practice, epidemiology, food safety, public health, animal welfare, antimicrobial stewardship “in-service” training for publically employed animal chiropractic professionals etc. Based on scientific principles, there must be an established “probability” of success that conforms to the professions accepted and scientifically supported standards of experimental design, data collection and analysis.
	Category 3 – Practice Management/ Professional Development This category includes subject matter that helps make animal chiropractic professionals more competent and capable in serving the public interest in the delivery of animal chiropractic services but which is not necessarily scientific or clinical in nature. It can include but may not be limited to: business management, regulatory compliance, jurisprudence, skills based training in instrumentation, medical records, software management, member wellness, the art of animal chiropractic and communication and professional ethics.

Check All That Apply	Method of Delivery The method(s) of delivery, regardless of the AVCA CE Category, shall be appropriate to the educational content, objective and purpose of the program and presented in an effective manner that will best benefit the audience. The method(s) of delivery should, where practical, encourage active participation and involvement on the part of the participating attendee.
	Seminar/ Lecture - A seminar/lecture is an “in person” or “face to face” program, where presenter(s) and attendees are in the same location and where the event takes place in “real time” i.e., same time frame for all participants.
	Lab - A Lab is a face to face program which allows the attendees to have hands-on experience, training and/or practice of the techniques being taught.
	Interactive-Distance (Web-based, Teleconference or Audio-Conference) - An Interactive program must include instant or asynchronous two way communication during online or audio presentations, webinars, or teleconferences.
	Non-Interactive-Distance (Online, Correspondence, Journal, Question Writing, or Other Self-Study) - An independent/self-study program that includes methods of delivery such as online courses; videos, DVDs, journal articles or other electronic transmissions or other correspondence programs.
